Would-Be Domestic Terrorist Arrested in Fort Worth

Reader/Details

A 28-year-old male was arrested on Thursday, in a plot to blow up a building in Ashburg, Virginia.

Seth Pendley was caught trying to breach the doors of the Amazon Data Services Center.

Pendley has been charged with malicious attempt to destroy a building with an explosive, via The U.S. Attorney's Office for the Northern District of Texas.

(The Desk):

A 28-year-old male was arrested on Thursday, in a plot to blow up a building in Ashburg, Virginia. We are going live to reporter Allen Brickman, in front of the Collin County District Attorney's office.

(Reporter):

Seth Pendley was caught trying to breach the doors of the Amazon Data Services Center.

(Take VO):

An undercover cop met with Pendley, under the guise of selling him plastic C4.

(Take SOT):

"He pulled out the cash and was meticulously counting the bills. I had no doubt he was serious about pulling this thing off." - Undercover Cop

(Reporter): Pendley has been officially charged with a malicious attempt to destroy a building with an explosive, via The U.S. Attorney's Office for the Northern District of Texas. Back to you Dave.

(The Desk): Thank you, Allen. We will keep you and the rest of DFW updated with this news and more, coming at 7:00 p.m.