

Gradual Story: Grace Hall

In life, we often face decisions that mirror a so-called “leap of faith.” These decisions tend to require a lot of thinking and an uncertain result.

The issue of where to attend college was no different for Texas Wesleyan senior Grace Hall, who decided to take a chance on the small campus on East Rosedale.

“It’s one of the best decisions I’ve ever made,” said Grace. “I cannot imagine having gone about it any other way.”

Grace is a graduating senior in the Class of 2022, and her roots run through the state of Texas. Her father also graduated from Texas Wesleyan University.

She grew up and went to high school in DFW, and it only seemed natural that a place like Texas Wesleyan would be at the top of her list.

Texas Wesleyan, however, was not the first choice.

Grace had previously been a student at Baylor University in Waco. Going to a big-time and very exclusive college, one would think that an individual would feel fulfilled there.

But Grace had decided to leave after her third semester, and Texas Wesleyan was on her radar.

“I transferred during the middle of my sophomore year, and I picked Wesleyan because my best friend was a student here, she just graduated last spring, and my father had gone here,” said Grace.

Despite any uncertainty that Grace had about attending here prior, it is beyond clear that she belongs here, and her tenure here has not been anything short of impactful.

Grace is graduating with a bachelor’s of sciences in Political Science while also minoring in Music.

Grace plays piano and also has done several internships with congressman Ralph Norman and congresswoman Kay Granger.

Grace said, "I've had a good experience at Wesleyan! I've appreciated my professors, who have gone out of their way to assist me during my semesters."

While she is quick and concise with her answers, the details of her Texas Wesleyan University life and experiences speak volumes.

Grace is a very hardworking and studious individual. Not many could carry out a stellar career as a student while participating in the professional world with internships and performing concerts in fine arts.
